

Kumagai's Sent as Ambassador to American League to Decide on Curtailment of Schedules and World's Series

NATIONALS DISCUSS BASEBALL TROUBLES

Favor Season's Windup on Sept. 1—Dreyfuss to Act With Rival League.

The rival National League attractions scheduled for to-day—a meeting called by President Tener for New York and another to which Harry Herrmann sent invitations in Cleveland—will not be held, it is believed, as the National League took time by the forelock and held its meeting yesterday at local National League headquarters.

Only five clubs—New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Boston and Pittsburgh—were represented. Both Presidents, Dreyfuss and Tener, and George of Chicago advised the league they could not be present at the meeting even if it was held on Saturday, while Herrmann already announced he would go to the Cleveland meeting of the commission and would ignore the Nationals.

The National League announced that it was the sense of the meeting that the National League games should be played after September 2, but that a series of seven games be played as usual after that date.

Barney Dreyfuss was sent to the American League meeting in Cleveland with full powers to represent the National League in all matters pertaining to change in schedule, dates of terminating the season and arrangements for carrying on the world's series.

It may be noted that while the league went on record as opposing any game after Labor Day, it did not stipulate that September 2 necessarily should be the closing date. By giving Dreyfuss full powers to represent the National League, the league thereby binds itself to support any closing date that Dreyfuss is able to arrange with the American League.

The sentiment in favor of a world's series as usual was unanimous, as it was felt that to discontinue this big sporting event would be a big mistake. The meeting was adjourned at 10 o'clock, and the next day the league will be out of the race indicated they would like to run their teams until Labor Day and get in as many games as possible before the season closes.

Those who attended the meeting were President Tener, Harry Herrmann, New York, Charles Ebbets, Brooklyn, William Baker, Philadelphia; Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh; and A. C. Wise, Boston.

Major Percy Haughton, former president of the Braves, was also present for a few minutes in his new uniform. He attended merely to bid goodbye to his former fellow magnates. Haughton had hoped to return to the presidency of the Braves, but the season is over. He expects to go to France in a very short time.

GIANTS ROUTED BY CUBS ON SAILOR DAY

League Leaders Slaughter Perrett and Schupp—Pound Out 11 to 1 Victory.

By FREDERICK G. LIEB.

A charity worker recently told of an alteration between two small East Side boys of different lineages. After separating, the boys stood apart and looked at each other, one saying, "Don't you know it is wrong to fight?"

She let that sink in for a moment, when one of the kids replied, "Because I was beating him!"

So it was with the Giants and Cubs on the Polo Grounds yesterday. The Giants were not participants in a ball game. They simply were the fellows who were taking a beating, and it was a good one. The umpires had plenty of cause to stop the game because of brutality. Eventually it ended with Chicago ahead, 11 to 1.

It was a total rout, and nineteen hits for a total of twenty-seven bases and for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Schupp is expected to lodge a protest with the proper authorities. Perrett and Schupp led the Giants' attack, but they were not in the line of the lambasting. In both the ninth and ninth innings the Cubs smashed Perrett for clean hits. He also entered three wild pitches into John Heydler's documents.

BURNS BEATS PAL MOORE

Frankie Burns pugilistic idol of Jersey City, but night clubbing the eastern in which he is held by outpunching Pal Moore of Memphis and the United States Navy in a peppy eight round bout at the West Side ball grounds in this city.

Moore not only was beaten in the above particulars but he penalized himself by striking several foul blows and by constantly knocking on to prevent Burns using his hands.

Just before the main bout went on Charles F. X. O'Brien, Commissioner of Public Safety of Jersey City, entered the park to its capacity. Burns won because he landed the greater number of clean hits and he did the greater part of the leading and was the aggressor.

YANKS AGAIN FAIL TO HIT IN PINCH

Circuit Drive by Caldwell Prevents Shutoff by Browns — Score Is 8 to 2.

Special Despatch to The Sun.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—The Yankees lost another of those close decisions this afternoon when they opened a four game series with the Browns. The home team getting the verdict by a score of 8 to 2.

Up to the eighth inning the game had all the appearance of a shutout, but a circuit court by Ray Caldwell in this frame of mind, a runner second changed that aspect. Caldwell well hit a double in the second inning. In the ninth Hamer delivered a pinch hit to start a rally, but the side was retired with Peckinpaugh, who ran for Hyatt, on third base.

As has happened in so many reverses of the Yankees recently some high class pitching was wasted because the New Yorkers were next to helpless themselves on the attack. George Magridge allowed the Browns only four hits, but this total was due to a runner on base. The Yankees were able to collect off Wayne Wright, one of the youthful members of Jimmy Burke's pitching staff. A poor throw to first by Bill Lamar in the eighth inning proved costly, as he had a good chance to prevent scoring, and the bad dog paved the way to two runs.

For seven innings Wright set the Yankees down in order. Caldwell, who through his double in the second frame, got on the bases and he was retired before the next hit had to be pitched. The Browns picked up their first two runs in the second inning. With one out, Hendry doubled to right and Geedon fled to Caldwell. Austin singled to left and Lamar hit to get Hyatt, who hit for the Yankees up to the eighth, when Baker led off with a double to left center. Caldwell followed with his home run that brought the Yankees within a mile later on a passed ball, which Wright went along in the usual way and retired the next three batsmen in order.

IMPORTED HORSES SHATTER RECORDS

Coe's Polymelin and Lacey work Make Turf History at Saratoga Track.

Special Despatch to The Sun.

SARATOGA SPRING, N. Y., Aug. 2.—More turf history was written at the famous race track here this afternoon. Two records were broken and both of the old marks fell before the mighty strides of imported horses owned by W. R. Coe, the New York City sportsman.

In the first race Laceywork, a little chestnut filly by Tracery and Maryland, sped over the five furlong course in 59.3 seconds, clipping two-fifths of a second from the old track figures established by J. W. Schorr's Alack Schick eighteen years ago.

While this little filly's performance was a record breaker, it was not nearly as brilliant a feat as that accomplished by Polymelin, the four-year-old chestnut son of Polymelin and Pasquitta, in the third event. Polymelin carried 120 pounds over the six furlong course in the amazing time of 1:10.3. This is two-fifths of a second faster than the record established by E. F. Cooney's Punch Ball in 1914.

In hanging up his record Polymelin easily defeated the best of the year's horses. He passed the judges pulled up, a length and a half in front of Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Blair, which many persons proclaimed the queen of the juveniles last year. George Starr finished third, half a length back, with Hollister, Dr. Johnson, Barbary, Candie, Urm, Thule and Bachelor's Bliss trailing in far.

Polymelin's victory was a stunner, but it was not nearly as great as it might have been if he had been pressed hard by his opponents. Not once during the contest was he seriously threatened. He set a dazzling pace and had his field dizzy trying to catch him in the last furlong. During the run through the long home stretch Jockey Fairbrother had difficulty in holding him in check.

Close Call for Laceywork.

Laceywork scored her victory by the narrowest of margins, for when she slipped past the judges only her head was in front of J. W. May's Nan Knoehr. The latter's horse finished second, due to a rough and tumble ride on the part of Jockey Byrne. He rode his mount recklessly in the stretch and was checked down by G. Peterson's Tommyhawk.

In the fourth race Byrne, who is one of the most popular riders here, gave another exhibition of rough riding. He was riding a mare named Cudgel, a chestnut filly by Flyaway, and as soon as the barrier went up bumped into George W. Loft's Younger. After causing Younger to fall, Cudgel was seen swinging along in front and scored an easy victory.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN ALL SPHERES OF SPORT

By DANIEL.

WERE it not for the fact that he is unwilling to quit the National League at a time when the league is in its most serious predicament in years it is doubtful if John K. Tener would be president of the National League to-day. It often has been said by many of Tener's Pennsylvania friends that one of the man's best qualities is his stanch loyalty, and we are sure that it is this loyalty to the league that is keeping Tener from resigning his position.

HOME TALENT IN WINS ON LINKS AT DEAL

Kendall, Nathan, Jr., and Kelley in Semi-finals of Invitation Golf Tourney.

Home talent made a brave showing in the first and second round matches of the invitation tournament at the Deal Golf Club yesterday. As the situation now stands, the survivors for the semi-finals to-day are H. C. Knyner of the Union County Country Club, Percy W. Kendall, Alfred Nathan, Jr., and John E. Kelley. The last three are Deal members.

Two good men met in the morning when Kendall and Richard A. Haight, the Princeton far driver, fought it out in the third bracket. As usual, Kendall was steady around the green, while Haight was rarely taking more than two putts, whereas Haight, who was driving the ball in a "disc" series, was taking advantages he gained off the tee by an uncertain short game. At the turn Kendall stood 1 up, having gone out in 39. After the match ended on the sixteenth green, the pair played out the last hole. Haight's drive to the home hole struck within a few feet of the ditch, closing the match, which meant a carry of close to 300 yards.

The story of how E. G. B. Riley, the Fox Hills golfer, made the home hole in double eagle, was a story of a day on Apawamis, will probably live long in links history. These two were fighting it out in the first round of the chief event, and up to the memorable home hole neither man had cause to make apologies for his golf. Riley went out in 41 and turned for home 1 up. Standing on the eighteenth tee, where the match stood, Riley's opponent, a man named a 4 for an 84, while Gaynor was about the same.

Ichiya Kumagai of Japan, Harold Taylor, former junior metropolitan champion, and Vincent Richards of the Pacific Coast, played the first round of the metropolitan lawn tennis championship tourney on the turf courts of the Cresskill Athletic Club yesterday afternoon. Kumagai defeated H. J. Morgenthaler in the fourth round, 6-2, 6-4; Taylor disposed of C. Chambers in the third round, 3-6, 7-5 and 6-3, and W. A. Harty, Jr. in the fourth round, 6-3, 6-5, and Vincent Richards from C. G. Burrows, 2-6, 3-6 and 6-1.

The semi-final round will be played this afternoon, with Kumagai opposing Richards in the upper half and Taylor meeting Selichro Kashio in the lower half. Kashio ended the semi-finals last Thursday.

The sentiment in favor of a world's series as usual was unanimous, as it was felt that to discontinue this big sporting event would be a big mistake. The sentiment in favor of a world's series as usual was unanimous, as it was felt that to discontinue this big sporting event would be a big mistake. The meeting was adjourned at 10 o'clock, and the next day the league will be out of the race indicated they would like to run their teams until Labor Day and get in as many games as possible before the season closes.
